

Listing of Modules of Study

Language of Instruction: English		Semester: Fall		Teaching Methods: Lectures, Office-hour, Self-study
Assessment Methods: Attendance, assignments and tests with final exams				Credit-transfer rate: 1 credit = 1.5 ECTS
Recommended Workload: 15 - 20 credits each semester for an individual enrolled for a degree study to maintain a full - time status
No.	Course Name	Area(s) of Study	Credit	Teaching Hours	Weeks of Teaching
1	The Law of Business Organizations	Law	2	32	16
2	Econometrics	International Business Administration	3	48	12
3	Marketing Principles	International Business Administration	3	48	16
4	Financial Accounting	Accounting	3	48	12
5	Project Evaluation	Public Economics and Administration	2	32	16
6	Game Theory and Information Economics	Economics	3	48	12
7	Research Method in Social Science	Public Economics and Administration	2	32	16
8	Research Design	Public Economics and Administration	3	48	16
9	Anglo-American Tort Law	Law	3	48	12
10	Operations Research	Mathematics	3	48	12
11	British and American Law	Law	3	48	12
12	Intermediate Macroeconomics	Economics	3	48	12
13	Contract Law	Law	3	48	12
14	Western Economics	Economics	4	64	16
15	Accounting	Accounting	3	48	16
16	Management	International Business Administration	3	48	12
17	Financial Accounting	Accounting	3	48	12
18	Cross-Cultural Communication in Business Settings	Cultural Studies	2	32	16
19	Industrial Organization	International Business Administration	3	48	12

No.	Course Name	Area(s) of Study	Credit	Teaching Hours	Weeks of Teaching
20	Real Estate Marketing	Public Economics and Administration	2	32	16
21	Money and Banking	Finance	2	32	16
22	International Business	International Business Administration	2	32	16
23	Judicial Frontiers	Law	2	32	16
24	International Economics	Economics	3	48	16
25	English in Business Settings	Language Studies	2	32	16
26	Anglo - American Tort Law	Law	3	48	16

Notes:

1. The above listing of modules is updated in August 2016 and its availability is subject to change. Thus, if a course has a high enrollment that reaches the cap, or becomes no longer available due to on-going changes which might be made to the teaching schedule (as will be announced prior to each fall semester), it may not be possible to accommodate you, or you are encouraged to remain a bit flexible in your schedule planning.

2. A wider range of in-session Chinese language modules will also be available for those wishing to map a key idea in the Chinese Language. Assuming no prior knowledge of Chinese, layers of learning goals designated and set in these modules are tailored to a beginner's progressive needs. More details on selection of Chinese language modules will follow upon your arrivals, specifically during an orientation session organized by International Cultural Exchange School (ICES) which will place you into the level of study as appropriate, as well as provide a valuable insight into the skills and expectations required to secure your success in these learning modules.

3. To start modules selection, please go to SUFE Academic Toolkit and follow the instructions given in the welcome email.

4. Any queries on the modules of study can be directed to: incoming@sufe.edu.cn.